One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism, but Many Voices

November begins with All Saints’ Sunday, a beloved feast day in the Christian year. We’ll sing a song of the saints of God this Sunday, and we’ll sing for all the saints, in the many voices of our Resurrection congregation.

The feast day means to teach us that the voices that come from our pews each Sunday are united in their act of praise with the song of the saints who have gone before us. There is a great communion of the living and the dead and the yet to be born, a body of Christian people that is spread through space and time. Andrew and Augustine, Monica and Mary, Pablo, Jennifer, Xavier, and Chip are all part of this great communion. Its many voices include people from every tribe, language, people, and nation.

A small worry that I have about our church is how often you hear from me, after 10 years of preaching, newsletter articles, and making the Sunday announcements. A ten-year old might think my voice to be the amplified, official voice of the church. But be sure that it is not, for we are a community of many voices. I hope my relative comfort standing up and speaking before others isn’t silencing others. I always wish more people would accept my invitations to share a word with the people of Resurrection in teaching, witness, announcements, and in calling on others to share in the work of the church. Overcoming our fear of offering our thoughts and voices to others is a gift to the communities of which we are a part. We need to speak and to hear many voices if we want to know ourselves as we are.

We do have some other voices who will be filling our pulpit some Sundays in the weeks ahead. For All Saints’, our preacher is Sr. Carol Andrew of the Order of St. Helena, North Augusta. Sr. Carol Andrew has been an Episcopal nun for 44 years and a priest for 22. She has a gift for preaching and loves to go to new places to help out. I’ll be at my 20th college reunion in Sewanee this weekend, though I am tempted to make a return in time to keep the high and holy day with you.

I’ll be with you on November 12, but we will also welcome back our former deacon Tim Ervolina to preach at the 10:30 service. On November 26, the Rev. Tom Nicoll (you all tend to call him “the tall guy”) will preach while I enjoy the Thanksgiving weekend in Tennessee. Tom is a serious thinker who had a great ministry in Westchester County in suburban New York City, before returning to his native Greenville in semi-retirement. I’d encourage careful and sustained listening to the preaching offered by Carol Andrew, Tim, and Tom. Their interpretation of the Scriptures, their theology, and their application of the Word will be different from mine, and there may be blessings for us in those different voices.

Finding your voice as a Christian disciple is a worthy goal for the next phase of our church’s life. We have a capital campaign coming up soon, in which we will pay off much of our mortgage debt and complete the purchase of a new organ, itself one of the many voices of the church. When that work is done, a new phase of our life will begin. We’ll be finished navigating the challenging waters of building and financing. The work of formation for the Christian life and for mission will increasingly be the work before us. The study of Scripture, deeper capacity for theological reflection, and further developing a taste for sharing in the mission of the church are the ministries we are likely to emphasize.

I have eyes out for tools to help us develop in these basic and renewing practices of the Christian faith and will be thankful for your ideas.

This month and next, somehow already the end of the year, are full of opportunities to grow in Christ’s service and knowledge and to find your voice as one who prays and speaks with him. Take note of all that is offered as the year reaches its end and see if your church is helping you find the voice of your faith. Our flourishing formation programs, talented choir, and lively fellowship suggest we are on the right track in the finding and blending of our voices in God’s praise. That is our ancient and ever-new vocation.
Intergenerational Formation & Mission Gathering
Sunday, November 19

On the Sunday before Thanksgiving, we’ll again take an opportunity to show our gratitude for God’s blessings by using our formation hour to share His gifts with others. This year, we’ll sponsor children from a trailer park community in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee. Because of their immigration status, the families of this community were unable to participate in much of the financial assistance offered to the victims of the fires that spread through East Tennessee last fall. They were unable to work and went without a steady income for about 4 months while their employers rebuilt or repaired damage to the hotels and restaurants. Area charities provided assistance to sustain the families during the height of the crisis, but the children remain without toys, books, puzzles, and other forms of education and entertainment.

Joey Potter, a representative of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes based in Atlanta, has organized several mission trips to this community over the last year. He is currently working to gather toys and presents for the children to see that they enjoy an abundant Christmas this year. Another group will provide toiletry items. Mr. Potter, a friend of Josie Ryan’s has asked us to provide Christmas presents. We will set up an angel tree in the Gathering Space with ornaments representing each child from the Pigeon Forge community. Please take an ornament and purchase a present appropriate for his or her age and gender. Wrap and bring the present to church on November 19 during the formation hour at 9:30. We’ll gather for a blessing of the donated presents and engage in a short bible study on mission as a form of Christian discipleship.

For more information about these children and Mr. Potter’s ministry, visit http://fcaurbanatlanta.org/ or watch the video at https://vimeo.com/236856286.

Save the date for these upcoming family and children’s formation events:
- Wednesday, December 6, at 6 PM, a visit from St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, during our Resurrection Community Supper
- Thursday, December 21, 9:30-3:00, Advent Day Camp for children and middle school youth. Note this is a District 50 in-service day, no school for students but teachers and staff working.
- Sunday, December 24, during the 4:30 Christmas Eve service, an intergenerational Christmas pageant. A short rehearsal for this pageant will be held at a day/time TBD. Elizabeth Floyd

Children’s Library Title of the Month: Saying Grace by Virginia Kroll
Noted author Virginia Kroll explains in the foreword to her storybook that the tradition of saying a prayer before meals is just that, a tradition. There is no official, biblically-based rule that requires Christians to pray before meals. Yet the habit began before the time of Christ and has been practiced for centuries by many different religions and cultures. Saying Grace suggests the origin of the tradition in North American culture was the idea of an eight-year-old girl, living amongst the early settlers of our country, who at her village’s first thanksgiving feast became overcome with gratitude.

Take home Saying Grace to read with your family as the Thanksgiving holiday approaches. Then make your own prayer dice to keep at your dinner table. Purchase a 3-inch, blank cardboard (or wooden) cube from a local store. Write one short prayer or bible verse on each side. Before every meal, a member of your family may roll the prayer dice and recite the prayer printed on the side that falls facing up. Your kids will love the chance to roll the dice, and your family will always remember God’s bounty at mealtime.

Saying Grace
Our Sunday Adult Forum series on Ethics and Moral Theology has been a lively gathering, with spirited conversation, excellent presentations, and considerable attendance. Two weeks in the series remain:

November 5: The Ecological and Benedictine Witness of a Monastic Vocation. Sister Carol Andrew OSH leads this session. She is a frequent guest preacher and celebrant at Resurrection and a sister of the Order of St. Helena. The mission of the Order of Saint Helena is to show forth Christ through a life of monastic prayer, hospitality and service. Sister Carol Andrew will lead us in reflection on the monastic life and the stewardship of the creation to which Christians are called. Environmental ethics takes us into some of the most pressing issues of our days.

November 12: How Then Shall We Live? A concluding session, led by Fr. Beasley. In our reflection on ethics in various areas of the human endeavor, what have we learned for holy living in our own smaller orbit of concern and action? Can we articulate an ethic for Christian living?

November 19: Intergenerational Mission and Formation event: See above.

November 26: Formation classes suspended for Thanksgiving

December 3, 10, and 17: Scripture and Short Fiction for Advent, led by Chuck McDonnell

Beginning in January: A Serious Examination of Humor in the Scriptures

Welcoming of Baptized Members
We will welcome Baptized Members on Sunday, November 19 at both services. Note the change of date to accommodate the plans of some new members!

All Saints’ Sunday is November 5
Our prayers will remember members of our parish family who have died since last All Saints’ Day; we’ll also renew our baptismal vows, as a sign of our place as the saints here on earth. Sr. Carol Andrew of the Order of St. Helena will preach in both services. Make sure you “fall back” an hour the night before!

95th Diocesan Convention November 4-5
Your, senior warden and convention delegates will be attending the Convention of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina, which includes electing persons to diocesan offices, training and learning, worship, and the passing of a budget. Prayers are appreciated!

Holy Communion
At Wesley Commons
Tuesday, November 21, 11 AM
Private Dining Room
Bring a friend; all are welcome and all baptized persons are invited to receive. Lunch together usually follows.

All things come of thee, O Lord, and of your own, have we given thee!
What an awesome response!
We have received 92 pledges for $359,401!
That means we’ve reached last year’s pledge level with thirty fewer pledges than last year. Fewer pledges aren’t the trend we hope for, however. Your pledge is still very much needed and will let the church move purposefully forward in its mission. Your gift will make a particular difference as we face capital campaign costs, a planned repair of the church’s 92 year-old roof, and new opportunities in mission giving. Please find an additional card at church or pledge via the church’s website. Thank you!

The Daughters of the King will have their monthly meeting on Thursday, November 16 at 4 PM in Emmaus Hall.
Race to be Thankful!
Our church will again sponsor the Race to be Thankful, a 5K run/walk on Thanksgiving morning. The race will start at the Gatewood pool house at 8AM. The course will wind through the Gatewood subdivision. Proceeds support EOR’s missions outreach programs. Register online at itsabouttime.run/thanksgivingrun. Cost is $25 until race day. $30 on race day. Tee shirts will be provided to all participants who register by November 5. Please mark your calendars and plan to join us on Thanksgiving morning for some good exercise and fun. Volunteers are needed to help with preparations and race day. Please contact Kim Russell (jjhrussell@embarqmail.com) or Tim Wood 344-7207.

Give Thanks by Sharing!

Gloria Daniel from Holloway’s Grocery prepares Thanksgiving plates for the Westside community and Greenwood seniors. This year, she needs 6 frozen turkeys; ingredients for mac and cheese; cream of chicken soup, and desserts, pies, cakes, etc. Donations of money would also be gratefully accepted. Please make checks payable to Church of the Resurrection and in the memo line mark it Holloway’s Thanksgiving Dinner.

All food items need to be at the Gathering Space in the Parish House by Sunday November 12, at coffee hour after the 10:30 service. Gloria plans to come to the coffee hour to chat!

Our Campaign Co-Chairs Frank Wideman and Trisha Craven have been hard at work laying the groundwork for our campaign that will take place in December and January. Gift worker training is Tuesday, November 7, with a make-up session for the following Sunday. Our campaign kick off is scheduled for Sunday, January 7!

The Altar Flowers are given to the Glory of God and:

November 5: in memory of Janet McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. McCabe, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Legare Kizer by Bill, Justin, Shannon, and Jordan McCabe.

November 12: Open Date

November 26: to the glory of God and in thanksgiving for our children and grandchildren by Joe and Noonie Fennell.

The Presence Candle burns to mark the presence of Christ in the reserved sacrament and in loving memory of all the faithful departed of our parish. (Open Dates November and December)

Heads Up! Christmas Eve is on the Fourth Sunday of Advent this year: That’s Sunday, December 24. We keep every Sunday of the year and have beautiful traditions for Christmas Eve as well. To make it (music, decorating, family schedules, clergy and staff energy) all work this year, our plans are:

Sunday, December 24
Fourth Sunday of Advent Service
9:00 AM: Combined morning service, with hymns. No Sunday School.

Christmas Eve Services
3:00 PM Holy Eucharist
4:30 PM Children’s Eucharist with Christmas Pageant
10:00 PM Choral Eucharist; Prelude at 9:45

Notice the earlier hour for our final and fanciest service. We are trying to reverse considerable decline in attendance over the last decade.
Upcoming opportunities to serve:

Consider serving on our Vestry.
We seek four vestry nominees, to be elected at our annual meeting in January, for a three-year term. Vestry members are the governing board for the church and join in its spiritual leadership. We need talented, committed church members to accept this vital responsibility! Email Senior Warden Cathy Robertson (cathyrobs67@gmail.com) to learn more or submit your name.

Mardi Gras leaders: We are planning a Mardi Gras party for Saturday, February 10. We need a couple of co-chairs to make for an evening of fun and mission fundraising before Lent begins. Do you have a friend who could be a partner in leading this event? Gumbo cooks and a decorating team are in place. Your vision and leadership are needed to revamp this great evening. Email nicholas.beasley@episcopalgreenwood.org with questions or take the lead!

Outdoor banner duty: Resurrection will post banners advertising an early December Christmas concert, our Christmas services, and a word of Advent blessing. Could you be in charge of setting the stakes, stretching the cords, and keeping them sharp looking? Email nicholas.beasley@episcopalgreenwood.org with questions or take the lead!

A leader for our Greeter Ministry: Do you have a heart for hospitality? We need someone to help with this front door ministry of our church and with a new plan for deploying greeters in strategic locations. Email Nicholas with questions or take the lead!

The Race to be Thankful: Contact Kim Russell at jahrussell@embarqmail.com or Tim Wood at 864-344-7207 if you would like to volunteer.
