Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

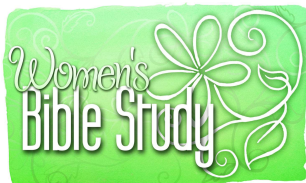

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

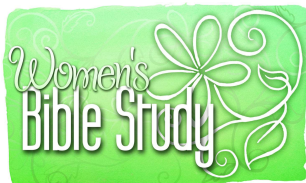

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-abouts” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Vol. VII
Issue 8
August

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

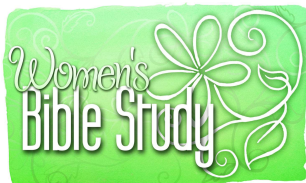

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known

There's a Small Group

as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

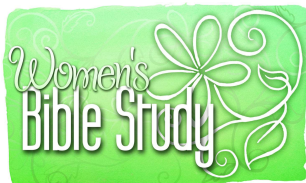

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Our Mission

We are a people rooted in worship, branching out into the world.

Vol. VII
Issue 8
August

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

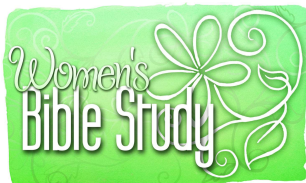

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

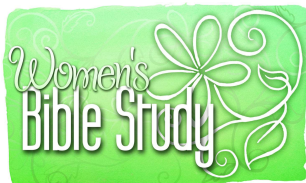

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

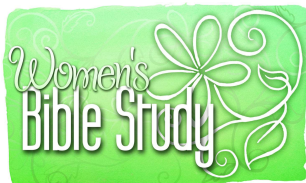

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Vol. VII
Issue 8
August

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

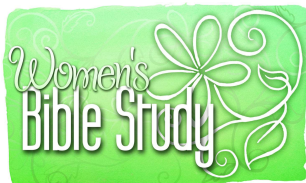

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known

There's a Small Group for You!

as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian,

A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Dear Church of the Resurrection Family,

Summertime at the church is often a time of planning. That has certainly been true this summer. It feels even more exciting this year because so many of our ways of being in community have not occurred during the past year because of COVID-19. I am thrilled that we can gather again! Please save the date for our Annual Harvest Dinner on August 29th at the Uptown Market. Invitations will be in the mail soon.

In addition to fellowship plans that Reva Davis will highlight (we need your help to make those events happen), we have several formation opportunities available this fall. In this newsletter there will be more information about our fall formation for all! Each member of our parish will be assigned to a small group, each group will decide the best time to meet weekly. This is truly a time to be in community, learn more and deepen our faith with each other and God!

This fall we will embark on a journey called Sacred Ground. This is a formation opportunity that was created by the Episcopal Church for us to learn, grow and deepen our understanding of Racial Reconciliation. We will meet monthly on Monday nights beginning on September 13th through June. I would love for many of you to participate in this Holy work! Please reach out to me for more information.

There are many other opportunities to be a part of ministry – Fellowship, EfM, our Tutoring Program, the Soup Kitchen, the list goes on.

Please let me know how I can help you deepen your relationship with Jesus Christ through ministry. There is a fit for everyone, and I promise you will not regret it!

My heart is full of love for each and every one of you. Every time I stand behind the altar, I get goose bumps. It is an honor to serve you.

~ Mary Balfour+

Vestry Highlight: Fellowship Plans

Hello COR! Just wanted to update you on events and items that we're working on in Fellowship. Due to Covid we were set back this year on activities we normally do at church, and I'm truly sorry. However, we are currently working on the following plans for the next few months.

Progressive Dinner:

Getting together with others for appetizers, dinner and desserts. In the past, we met at three members' homes for each of the courses. We try to keep the homes close together to keep it simple. We would need a few volunteers that would be interested in meeting with me to put this together for the month of September or October.

Wednesday Fellowship with a light dinner:

This is a time where we meet with Mary Balfour Dunlap for an activity she has planned, and we enjoy a light dinner provided by volunteers.

Coffee Hour:

We officially started back coffee hour in June. At this point we have about seven families that have signed up to host. We would GREATLY appreciate more volunteers so that each volunteer gets assigned coffee hour two to three times a year.

If you have any questions or would like to volunteer for activities above, please contact me: Reva Davis at 992-4542 text/call or by email davism2001@gmail.com

Christian Formation

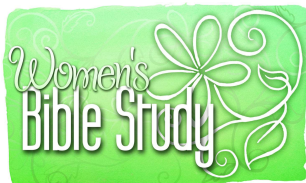

Christian discipleship involves more than just Sunday morning worship. To live as a child of God means to follow the example of Jesus. We will never live up to his example, yet we honor God by our striving. That striving is sustained by a commitment to learning from Jesus.

This fall there are numerous ways that you can be a student of Jesus. Read through these summaries and choose one or more that works for you!

Women's Bible Study – Beginning September 16

On Thursday Evenings at 6:30, Donna Brooks, our Music Director, is leading a bible study for women in the Bride's Room.

Contact her for more information, 992-3738, dbrooksgwd@gmail.com.

Education for Ministry (EfM)

EfM is a program developed by the School of Theology at Sewanee to help participants learn, at a deeper level, the bible, church history and Christian theology for the purpose of identifying his/her place in God's kingdom on earth. Participants meet weekly, September through May, for about 1 ½ hours. Date, time and location to be determined. Contact Chuck McDonnell, mcdonnell.chuck@gmail.com.

Sacred Ground – Beginning September 13

Beginning on Monday, September 13, we will begin a new monthly

program called Sacred Ground. It is provided by the national Episcopal Church, and several local congregations in South Carolina have used it and loved it. A great description can be found on the national church's website:

The 10-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories... Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

We'll meet on the second Monday of each month from 6:30 to 8:00 in Emmaus Hall.

Intentional Small Groups for All Ages – Beginning the week of September 13

Like most churches, Resurrection has long offered Christian education programs on Sunday mornings between the two worship services, commonly known as Sunday School. Attendance at Sunday School has fallen remarkably over the past years, which suggests that our tradition may need to change. So we are trying something entirely new!

Beginning the week of September 13, we will offer traditional Christian education through intentional small group gatherings. Each group will use the same curriculum, but each will meet at the time, date and location of the group's choice. Mary Balfour and Elizabeth have collaborated to establish small group cohorts connected loosely by a shared characteristic. For example, “The Lakers” are those who live on Lake Greenwood, and “The Early Birds” are those who regularly attend the early worship service. Our cohorts won’t be perfectly matched, and we invite groups to swap members, to combine or even to split if necessary. The important point is to make your group a priority; make the time to be a part of it.

We’ll have an intentional small group for children, one for teenagers, and one or more for parents; these three cohorts will meet at the same time at church, most likely on Sunday evenings. Nursery care for little ones will be provided during these gatherings if requested.

Each group will have a leader who agrees to serve as the tie that binds the group together through communication and enthusiasm. We will ask the leader to make the first contact with each member of the group and to coordinate the meetings. Each member of our church will receive a phone call during the month of August from a small group leader. Answer that call! Be a part of this!

Our formation curriculum, adapted for all ages, is called “Exploring the Bible.” It is a simple form of bible study using a book called The Path. But the small groups gatherings are not meant to be just bible study. We are a church family; spending time together should always involve fun and laughter. We mean these groups to serve as an opportunity to trade stories of joy, humor and sometimes, disappointments. We mean them to provide a community, a circle of friends, if you will, for everyone in our church.

Search for a New Bishop

For almost twelve years, the Right Rev. Andrew Waldo has served as the Eighth Bishop of the Diocese of Upper South Carolina. The last day of 2021 will mark his last day in that role. Right now, a Nominating Committee is forming a slate of candidates for the role of Ninth Bishop. They were appointed last September by the Diocesan Standing Committee and created a diocesan profile with input from a diocesan-wide survey. Then they received nominations and began the work of discerning those who best fit our profile. Through prayer, meetings, interviews and research, the Committee created a short-list of candidates. Those candidates recently met with the Committee at Camp Gravatt. The Committee also opened the process to nominees by petition. They are now preparing a slate of candidates to present to the Standing Committee on August 14. The Diocese will inform us all of the slate in late August or early September. Then on September 11 and 12, the Delegates to the Diocesan Convention (from Resurrection: Lisa Anderson, Summer Booker, Mary Balfour, Cecily Hughes, Jane Merrill and Dawn Puderbaugh) will meet the slated candidates for “walk-about” at Heathwood Hall and Christ Church Episcopal School. Finally, on September 25, the Delegates will vote for the election of the Ninth Bishop!

You might be surprised to learn that Resurrection was the parish of four previous bishops! That is, four of our former rectors went on to become a bishop: Theodore D. Bratton, founder and priest in charge of our parish from 1892 to 1898 later became the Bishop of Mississippi in 1903; Albert Stuart was our Rector from 1931 to 1935 and later became the Bishop of Georgia in 1954; William A. Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Beckham served Resurrection from 1958 to 1963 and then was elected the Sixth Bishop of Upper South Carolina in 1979; Charles Von Rosenberg was Rector of Resurrection from 1983 to 1989 and then became the Bishop of East Tennessee in 1999. We must provide fertile ground for God’s recruitment!

If you aren’t already familiar with our church’s governance, here is a very brief overview: The Episcopal Church with a capital “E” is an episcopal church, which means it is overseen by bishops (the word “episcopal” comes from the Greek episkopos, “overseer”). Other Christian denominations are in this sense, episcopalian, such as Catholics, Lutherans and Methodists. A bishop is the chief pastor of a diocese and presides at services of confirmation, reception and reaffirmation and frequently visits parishes to assist in carrying out the ministry of the church. During his tenure, Bishop Waldo has been involved with the South Carolina Bishops' Public Education Initiative (AME, Episcopal, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, United Methodist), which works toward education equity in public schools. He has also supported our diocese's work in Cange, Haiti and its surrounding villages. Most recently, Bishop Waldo has led our diocese's response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We encourage your prayers for the Nominating Committee, the Standing Committee and all the candidates for the office of Bishop. They are performing a great service to us, and it is very important work indeed!

Upcoming Events and Opportunities for Ministry

Sunday, August 15

Guest Speaker:

Kathryn Butler

Director of Student Support Services
Greenwood District 50

Please join us after the 10 AM service in Bishop's Hall for a presentation by Kathryn Butler on student homelessness. Ms. Butler has served students in Greenwood District 50 for over twenty years. She will teach us what homelessness really means for young people, how it affects their academic and social development and how you may be able to support them.

Friends of HEALTHY LEARNERS
Adult Spelling Bee

September 28, 2021, 6:30 at Emerald High

Are you good at spelling? If so, we have an opening on our Spelling Bee team, the Resurrection Rabble Rousers! Contact Jan Puzar, 344-7842, janpuzar@yahoo.com. We brought home the trophy last year. Help us do it again this year!

Second Sunday

August 8, 2021

We will accept donations to the Greenwood
Pathway House:

Cleaning and laundry supplies, paper towels, toilet paper, trash bags, regular size personal hygiene products for all genders and ages.
Please leave your donations on the designated table at the rear of the Nave.

Our tutoring program, CO3R, will begin in late August, and we need tutors!

Could you tutor an elementary student on Monday and/or Wednesday from 4 to 5 PM?
